A young girl with dark skin and braided hair is leaning against a blue-painted wall in a narrow alleyway. She is wearing a white dress with a ruffled collar. The alleyway is flanked by stone walls, and the lighting suggests it might be late afternoon or early morning. The overall mood is somber and poignant.

Will you consider leaving the gift of life in your will?

Leave behind a better world for the poorest people. Stay in their hearts forever.

The compassion you show to some of the world's poorest people has astounding effects. Safe, clean water is not just necessary for life; it's necessary to thrive.

Your gifts travel through continents, across valleys, deserts and mountains, from sprawling urban slums to rural villages. And everywhere your gifts land, your kindness touches the hearts of the poorest people.

Everyone deserves safe, clean water and proper sanitation. Now, your support can live on in the hearts of the people who remain, by including a gift in your will to WaterAid.

“I am happy because we have been given such a gift. Now the children play in the water all the time.”

Change can last forever

We really hope that you will find a space in your will for WaterAid – and forever change the lives of some of the poorest people in the world.

We understand that you will want time to think about it – and you will naturally want to provide for your family and friends first. If you then decide you do want to include WaterAid in some way, you don't need to tell us, although we'll always be happy to hear from you.

If your circumstances change, we completely understand – you have the right to change your mind and we will always respect your wishes. Thank you so much for considering this special gift.

“Water is an absolute essential. A gift in my will, however small, contributes to WaterAid’s resources – turning my money into clean, safe water for people I shall never know. So they, too, will have this basic necessity for life.” Patricia McBeth WaterAid supporter

Your gift will never be forgotten

At any one time, half the hospital beds in developing countries are taken by people suffering from diarrhoeal illness. This is a huge and unnecessary drain on limited resources. Just think how different the world would be if everyone had clean, safe water and sanitation.

We're grateful for every gift we receive from our supporters – whether you leave a specific amount, a residual gift, or a share of your estate – just 1% can help us enormously.

Whatever you can spare will be put to good use bringing safe water and sanitation to people who desperately need them.

“Before the area was full of stagnating water. We used to have diarrhoea, coughs, and fevers which affected the children. Now there are many changes – a separate place for drinking and for washing. Water isn’t stagnating.”

WaterAid has helped more than 13 million people access safe, clean water since 1981. But there are still 884 million people who do not have the safe water they need – and 2.5 billion who do not have adequate sanitation.
