WaterAid's workplace giving program aims to raise over $75,000 over 12 months to help Cambodians who live without access to safe water and basic sanitation.

In Cambodia,
1/3 of the population do not have access to safe water.

63% of the population do not have access to a toilet.

Over 10,000 children die each year from preventable diarrhoeal diseases.

In 2013 WaterAid took the first steps to setting up a country program in Cambodia, one of the poorest nations in Southeast Asia. Cambodia has had a volatile past. Its recent history has been tainted by civil war, governmental corruption and environmental damage. Cambodia also has the lowest sanitation coverage and the second lowest water supply coverage in the region.

WaterAid believes there is huge potential to make a positive impact in Cambodia. Since 1981, we have helped provide 21.1 million people globally with access to safe water. With your help WaterAid can bring effective and sustainable water, sanitation and hygiene programs to the poorest Cambodian communities.

How to get involved

Workplace giving is a simple way to donate directly to WaterAid's Cambodia program.

The money will come straight out of your pre-tax salary resulting in an immediate tax benefit, and the combined contribution of employees from organisations all over Australia will have a huge impact on poor Cambodian communities. You can sign up by pledging to contribute a monthly donation for any amount over $10. Simply fill out the pledge form enclosed and return it to your workplace champion or HR department.

Your pledge will directly support the establishment and maintenance of water, sanitation and hygiene projects in rural Cambodian communities. You will receive regular updates on WaterAid's progress and information about the positive impact your valuable contributions are making on the ground.

Every individual pledge will add up to make a huge impact in Cambodian communities!

Here are some ways that your monthly gift could make a difference:

$10
per month

could help one of our local partners improve access to safe drinking water in rural communities in Cambodia

per month

could help one of our local partners support people with disabilities to build accessible toilets

$40
per month

could help us to provide training to our local partners on effective and sustainable sanitation and hygiene programs
