WaterAid Quiz Pack
WaterAid is an international not-for-profit, determined to make clean water, decent toilets and good hygiene normal for everyone, everywhere within a generation.

We started out in 1981, when several UK water companies came together to create a single international organisation dedicated to the water crisis – because one didn’t exist. Since then, we’ve remained resolutely focused on tackling clean water, decent toilets and good hygiene because these three essentials transform people’s lives. Without all three, people can’t live dignified, healthy lives. With all three, they can unlock their potential, break free from poverty and change their lives for good. Children grow up healthy and strong, women and men get to earn a living, whole communities start to thrive. It sounds normal and it should be.

By inspiring people and sparking chain reactions we help deliver lasting change in what’s normal. By working closely with partners internationally and on the ground in some of the toughest places in the world, we have helped millions of people take control of their lives and build better futures.

After years of campaigning and championing the cause, we are now closer than ever to making our vision a reality. The UN has agreed to adopt the goal of getting water, sanitation and hygiene to everyone, everywhere by 2030. And we are determined to make that happen.

We work with local partners to deliver taps, toilets, boreholes and wells – the essentials that allow families and communities to unlock their potential and build brighter futures. And to make lasting change happen on a massive scale, we:

- convince governments to change laws
- link policy makers with people on the ground
- change attitudes and behaviours
- pool knowledge and resources
- rally support from people and organisations around the world.

We make a bigger impact because we bring people together, actively encouraging collaboration so that many voices can be heard and ideas can spread.

Together, we will change millions of lives for the better – and change normal for everyone, everywhere within a generation.
This quiz consists of four question rounds containing 10 points each and a picture round also worth 10 points. The maximum total score is 50 points. Check out our tips below on running your quiz online or at home.

Online

The Quiz can be conducted via video conferencing software from the comfort of your own home. Your participants can be friends, family or other interested parties online. You’ll need to agree a time and date, and ensure that everyone can use the video conferencing software needed to take part.

To make things fair, ask your teams to have a maximum number of participants, so you don’t have a team of 2 versus a team of 10!

If possible – use screen sharing to display questions which will be particularly useful for the photo round.

Run through the questions at the end of each round, there may be a toughie that people want to come back to.

People can use the chat box to send their individual answers to you, or you could set up an online form such as Survey Monkey or Microsoft Forms to enable teams to submit their answers all in one go.

Think of some prizes that you can send out, such as a prize for the winners, the best team name, the most average team, the best wrong answer, etc. This might even entice people to take part.

At Home

The Quiz can be conducted from the comfort of your own home. Get friends or family all together and ensure everyone is sitting comfortably, and you’re ready to host!

If possible – display the quiz questions on a big screen which will be particularly useful for the photo round.

Run through the questions at the end of each round, there may be a toughie that people want to come back to.

When totting up the scores, you can ask teams to swap sheets and call out the answers, or an assistant can collect and mark the answer sheets after each round. Alternatively you can wait until all answers are in and go through it all at the end of the quiz.

Think of some prizes that you can dish out on the evening of your event, for example, quiz winners, best team name, most average team, best wrong answer, etc.
